LISS, England (AP) — Dr. Theodore Thomson Flynn, 85, father of the late movie actor Errol Flynn, died Wednesday. Dr. Flynn was a professor emeritus of zoology at Queens University at Belfast, Northern Ireland.

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — Marshall Cassidy, 70, a leading figure in thoroughbred racing, who was credited with many of the modern improvements in horse racing, died Wednesday. Cassidy was executive secretary of the Jockey Club for many years until his retirement in 1964.

ONLY POLLARD

the case, we will in no way intervene."

Pollard asked law enforcement officers to investigate after he went to Hackler's office Tuesday to make arrangements to take the tests.

"I'm very upset," Pollard said on learning that Hackler was in Stuttgart on commission business. "I have got a good record. Nobody can put one glove on me at anytime in my practice for one speck of dishonesty."

"I've worked for 12 years to build something," he said. "They don't have one speck of evidence, not one, of wrong on me anywhere."

Pollard said the account of the alleged anonymous telephone call was "completely manufactured."

Asked why such a tale might be fabricated, Pollard said, "For one thing the 'old guard' image which they have and which is a correct image. It's hurting them and their candidates and they know if they don't win this election, they're gone. The younger element will take over the Democratic party and they'll be out forever."

He said the "manufactured" story was designed to make it appear that Rockefeller's administration "was just as rotten as all theirs have been" and to confuse the voters.

Pollard also said Wednesday that he would give Hackler and Farris a few days to decide whether to take the tests and that he would then take the test himself regardless of their action.

Scott said today that Pollard was informed Tuesday night that the State Police had "no intention" of giving such a test unless it was requested by a bonded law enforcement officer, the governor or a circuit court judge.

It would release 146 prisoners of war before the end of the month the largest POW release of the war.

The total of American combat dead last week was the lowest since the week of Aug. 6-12, 1967, when 22 Americans were killed in action. And the total of 563 Americans who the U.S. Command said were wounded in combat last week was the lowest since the week of Dec. 24-30, 1967, when the total was 437.

South Vietnamese and enemy casualties last week also were the lowest reported in many months.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 132 government troops killed, the smallest number since the week of Oct. 15-21, 1967. The U.S. Command said 1,243 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed last week, the lowest number since Sept. 24-30, 1967.

South Vietnamese infantrymen and U.S. Marine tanks moved into the demilitarized zone behind a strike by U.S. B52 bombers Wednesday, blasted about 200 North Vietnamese troops from their bunkers and sent them fleeing after 2 1/2 hours of fighting.

American people that, if this is done, we will gladly accept full responsibility for what I am certain will be a new period of growth, a resurgence of progress...."

Just 10 days ago Nixon saw Republican chances of gaining control of Congress as a long shot, predicting GOP gains of 30-40 seats in the house and 8-14 in the Senate. The Republicans would need 31 additional seats to organize the House and 13—a figure generally believed to be well beyond reach—to take over the Senate.

Nixon scheduled a vote-seeking auto tour of the Pennsylvania cities of Allentown, Reading, Pottsville and Hazleton. Pennsylvania is the third most populous state with 29 electoral votes.

In Michigan, Nixon held rallies Wednesday in Saginaw, Battle Creek and Grand Rapids—with mixed results.

Saginaw turned out the most enthusiastic crowd. The audience at Battle Creek, his second stop, included a large proportion of voteless school children. And in Grand Rapids, he obviously was thrown off stride by a score or so of chanting hecklers—they interrupted him four times before walking out—in an overflow incoherent crowd of more than 5,000.

"I can talk," he said, as his tormentors jeered. "They don't bother me a bit."

But they did seem to bother him. He speeded up his delivery and many of the punchlines in his standard stump speech were lost on those who had come to cheer him.

CTA Will Not Help Reassign Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock Classroom Teachers Association rejected Wednesday a proposal that the CTA help reassign individual teachers in keeping with faculty desegregation requirements imposed by U.S. District Court.

The association, however, agreed to assist in developing guidelines for the reassignment of teachers.

Some members of the CTA said the organization should have a voice in reassignment of teachers but other objected vigorously to the idea of teachers helping reassign their colleagues.

The Little Rock School District has until Nov. 15 to prepare a comprehensive plan for faculty and public desegregation that will abolish the dual school system and present it to Federal Judge Gordon E. Young.

The school board instructed Supt. Floyd W. Parsons to prepare such a plan, which would require reassignment of many teachers.

Young suggested that the district reassign teachers for the next school year so that the ratio of white and Negro teachers in each school would be roughly equal to the ratio of white and Negro teachers employed by the district — about 70 per cent white and 30 per cent Negro.

Says Crank Can Reform Prison

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Charles D. Matthews, chairman of the state Democratic party, said Wednesday night that Democratic gubernatorial candidate Marion H. Crank could best accomplish prison reform.

Matthews told a Young Democrats Club at College of the Ozarks that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's administration should be ashamed of its record on prison reform.

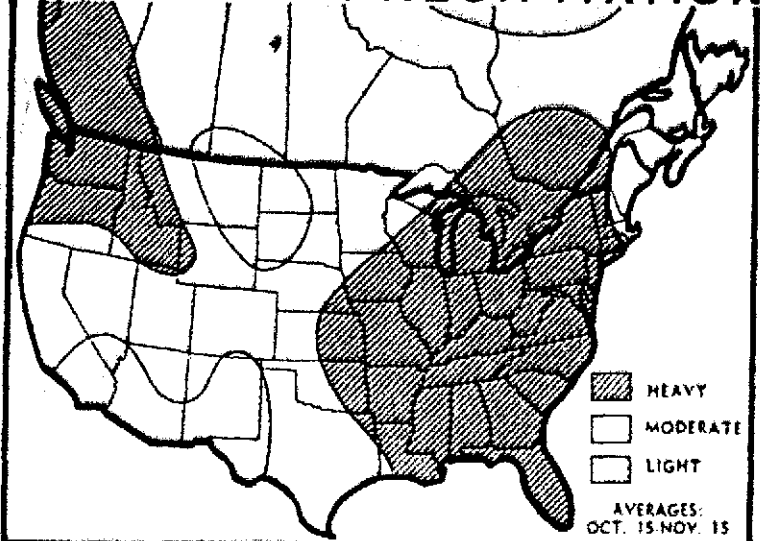

He said that if prison reform is to be instituted, "it must come under a responsible administration."

Matthews said the Republicans apparently no longer considered issues important because "the spectre of smut literature, dirty comics and 'old guard' hoksgoblins is all the GOP can talk about."

Tom P. Kilfeather, author of the book "Spanish Graveyard," says: "They are wasting their time. The Santa Maria de la Rosa was not even a galleon. She was a converted merchantman or freighter, armed with a few cannon and sent off with the Armada."

"Why should such a ship carry a fortune in gold and silver? Nobody goes to war with holds stuffed with treasure."

Kilfeather thinks the sole survivor of the wreck invented the treasure in an attempt to save his life. He was executed, however.

Frost, Freeze Scheduled for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Frost warnings have been issued for most of Arkansas tonight with a possible freeze in the extreme northwest portion of the state.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 39 degrees at Fayetteville to 49 at Pine Bluff and

Apollo Brought Ashore, Only Few Witness

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press Writer
NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Apollo 7, whose 11-day space flight was accompanied by the curiosity of millions, was quietly brought ashore here today and unceremoniously loaded onto a truck for the last leg of its momentous journey.

Only a few bystanders were at dockside when the golden, gleaming spacecraft arrived aboard the carrier USS Essex to which it had been brought after splashing down Tuesday in the Atlantic.

There was none of the excitement today that welcomed earlier spacecraft ashore at such points as Mayport, Fla., when a crane lifted Apollo 7, tilting it slightly and spilling gallons of water from its blackened heat shield.

Officials said the Apollo 7 could have absorbed as much as 2,000 gallons during the short period it was aloft off Bermuda before it was carried by helicopter to the Essex.

Not even its three-man crew — Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Lt. Col. Donn F. Elisei and civilian Walter Cunningham — was on hand today. They were flown Wednesday to Cape Kennedy.

The go-fail covering the 32,389-pound spacecraft has peeled and flaked in spots, but enough remained to give it a shiny, festive appearance.

Apollo 7 is to be trucked to a nearby airfield to be flown in an Air Force C130B to Long Beach, Calif., where it will be hauled to the North American Rockwell Co. plant for study.

GOPs Appeal Decision

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Republican party Wednesday appealed a Circuit Court ruling refusing to hold that the Republican member of county election commissions could name the majority party's judges and clerks if the Republican chairman and the third member of the commission disagreed.

The Arkansas Supreme Court scheduled a hearing for 1:30 p.m. today on a motion to advance the case.

Police Move to University of California

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Five bus loads of police and state highway patrolmen from the surrounding San Francisco Bay area moved onto the University of California campus today where student protesters had barricaded themselves in a building overnight.

Rocks and bricks were thrown at the officers from a crowd of 250 demonstrators outside the building. One highway patrolman's mouth was cut.

An estimated 150 persons had barricaded Moses Hall Wednesday night in an attempt to have academic credit restored to an experimental course on racism in America featuring Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver as a lecturer.

On Tuesday night, the campus police had arrested 121 persons who staged a similar sit-in at Sprout Hall, the nine-campus university's administration building.

There was no sign of police near Moses Hall throughout Wednesday night and early this morning.

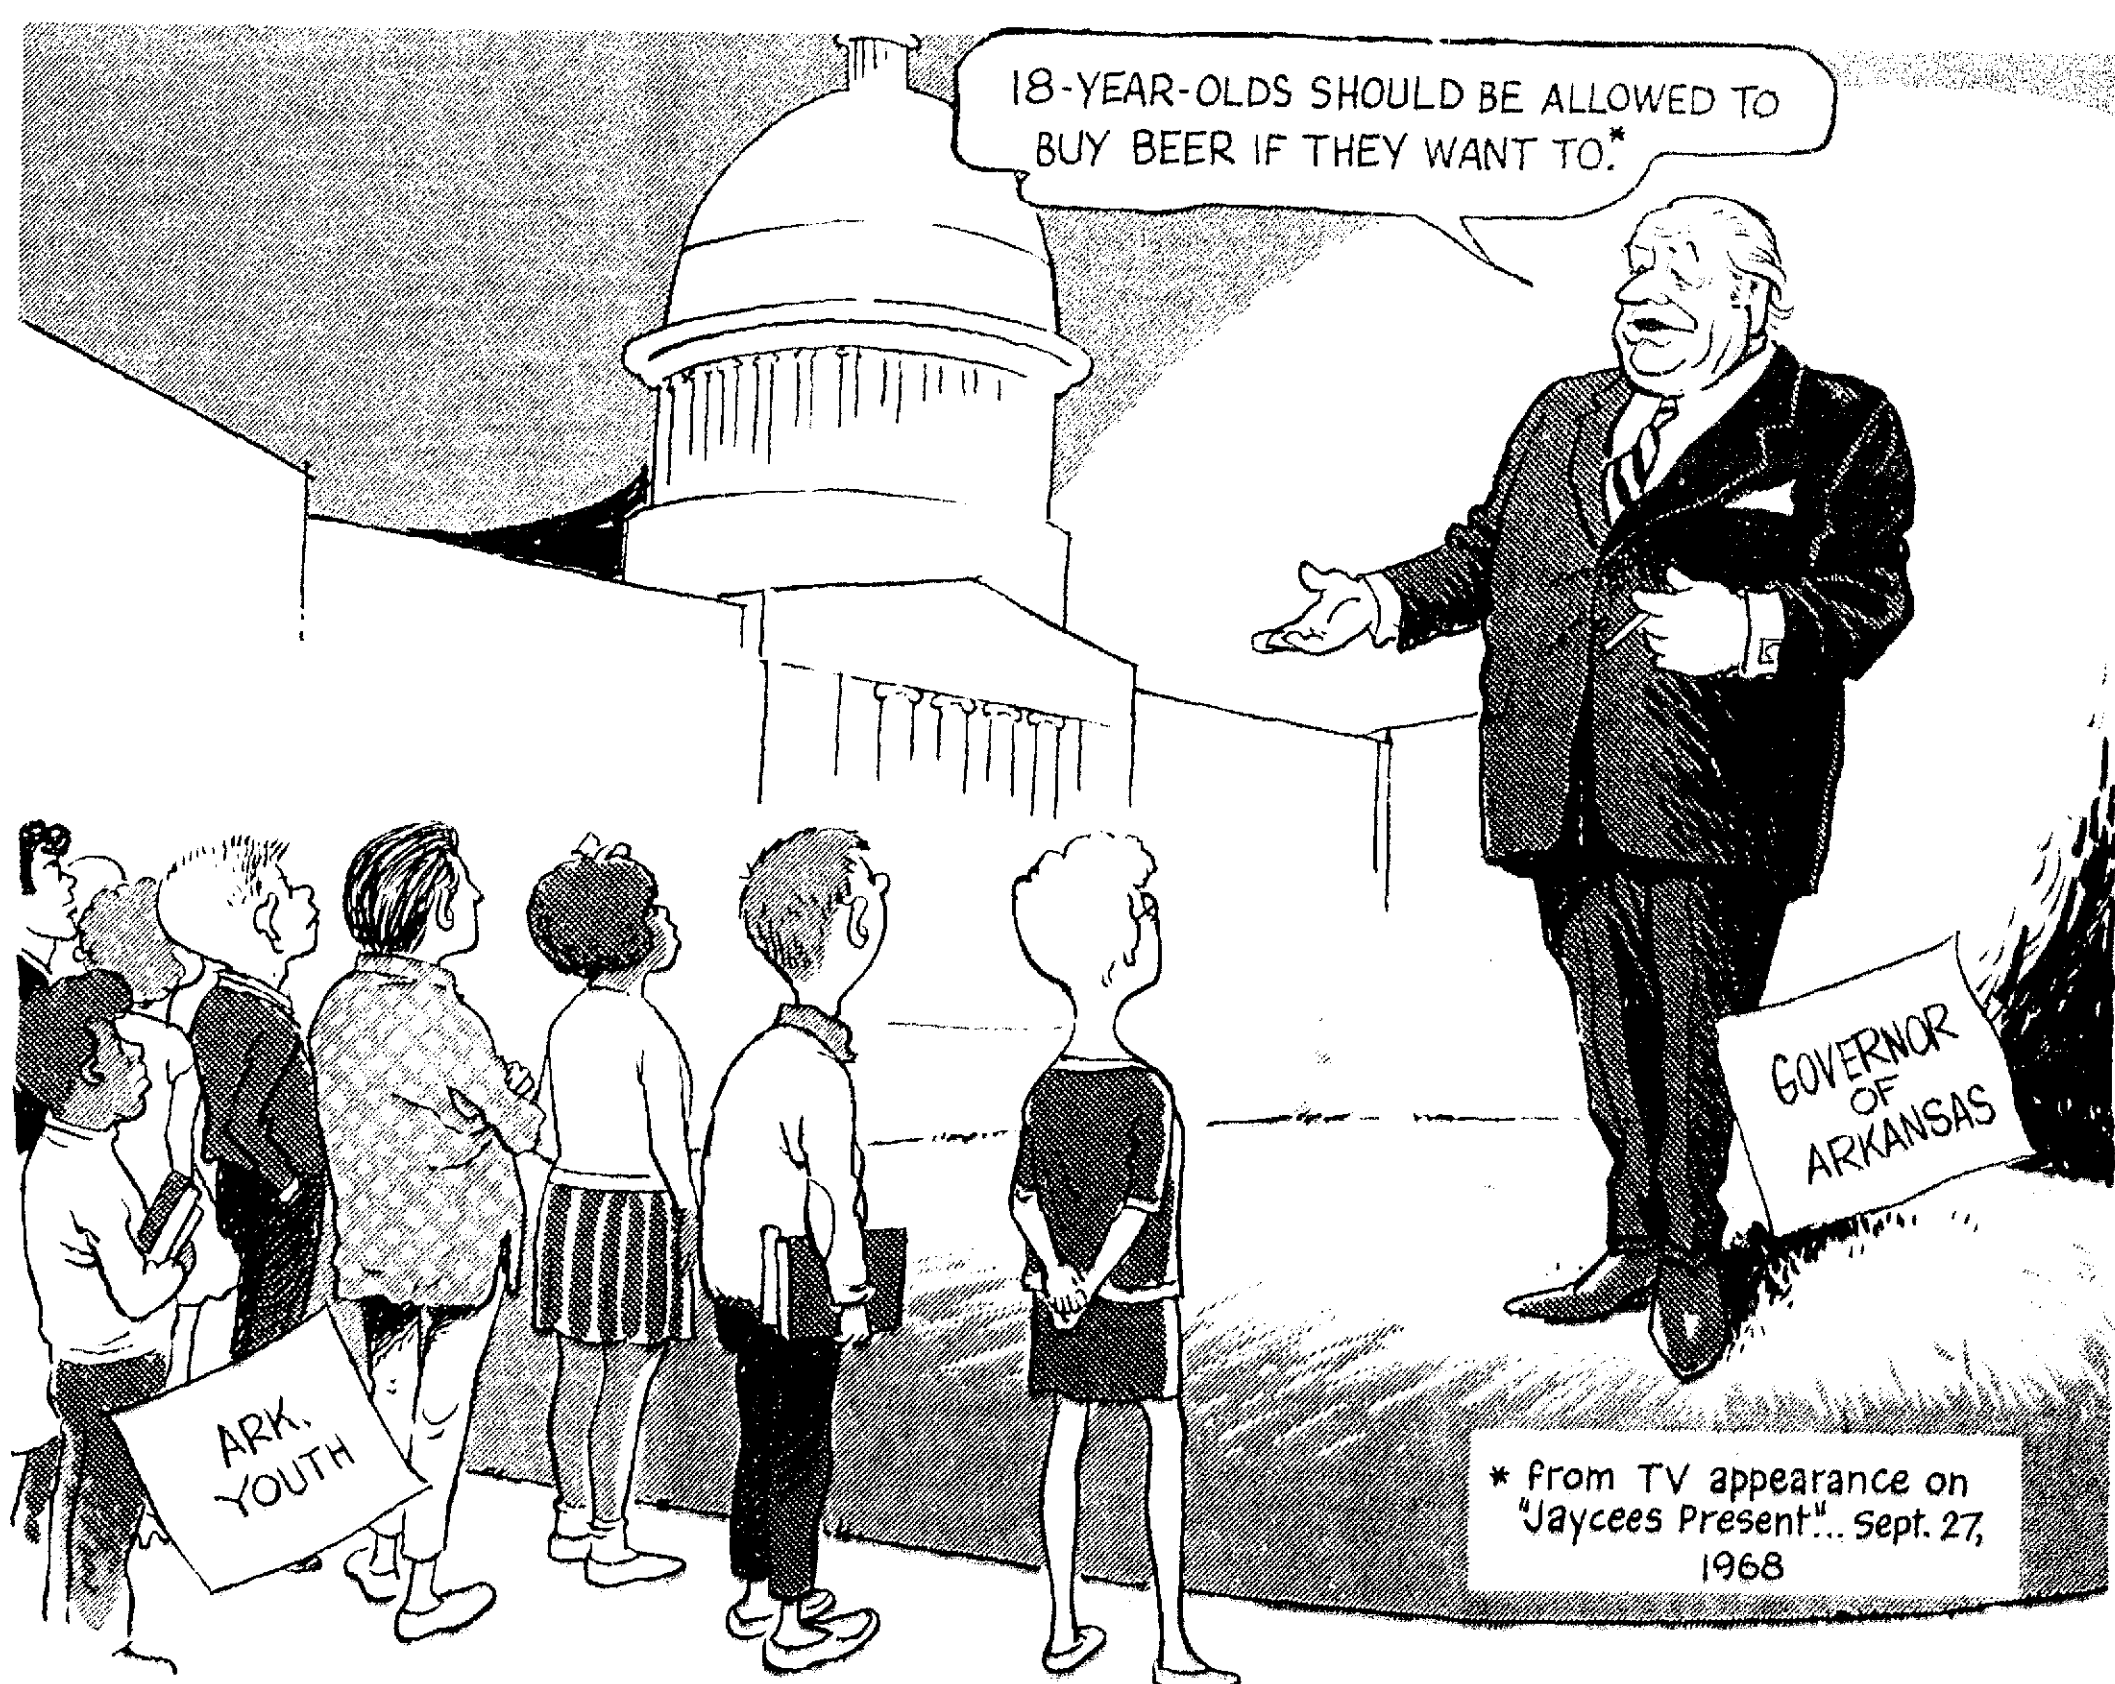

But just before dawn San Francisco police said a call went out to members of the Bay Area Mutual Aid Pact set up to handle potentially riotous situations.

Magnolia Is Heavily Favored

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

After that disappointing 20-14 loss to Fairview, the Hope Bobcats try to rebound this week by traveling to Magnolia to face the vaunted Panthers tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. in a 4-AA interdivisional contest.

Last year the Bobcats gave the heavily-favored Magnolia squad plenty of problems before falling 13-0. That one could have been an upset, as Hope fumbled at the Magnolia three-yard line midway in the final quarter when trailing only 6-0. Then the Panthers took it over on a 30-yard pass play late in the game to bring about the final score.

Magnolia, after finishing 8-2-1 in Coach Don Hubbard's first year at the helm, has jumped out this year to a 7-0 mark and the 4-AA Eastern Division championship. Next week comes the big battle between the Panthers and Fairview, and this could be a psychological advantage for the Bobcats this week.

The Panthers are solid on offense, returning the entire 1967 offensive backfield as well as three starters in the line. Senior Mike Waters is a proven performer, and his good size (180 pounds) makes him a running threat.

Mainstay for the Panthers a year ago was tailback Robert Hasley, who ran over the Bobcat defense 35 times for 180 yards. Hasley, now a 181-pound junior, ranks with Fairview's Jimmy Harris among the state's best. On the slot in Magnolia's offense will be returnee Larry Eddy, a 175-pound senior. Eddy ran for 50 yards against Hope last year, and he is also a capable pass receiver.

At fullback is junior Wayne Miles, an explosive 190-pounder who is best-known for his blocking abilities. And that is the backfield alignment for the Magnolia Wide-Slot offense, where an end is split wide on the strong side.

That split end is a 160-pound senior named Billy Jones, who has come into his own as a pass receiver this season, having not started at all before this year. At the tight end slot is converted center David Couch, a 190-pound senior who is primarily a blocker more than a receiver.

Filling the weakside guard position is Paul DeLoach, one of Hubbard's most improved linemen. A 195-pound senior, Paul is very effective on double-teaming blocks with tight end Couch. At the other tackle is soph Jerry Ford, a monstrous 200-pounder.

Squeezing in there somewhere are Chris Walters and Edwin Wilkins, the guard, both scaling 166 pounds. Neither had any experience before this year, but they are gaining it as juniors in the Magnolia two-platoon system.

David Crumpler is the center, and his blocks have crumpled many a noseman. A 200-pound senior, David faces his roughest opposition in Hope's Mickey Allen, who is a shoo-in for All-District.

And that's the offense, which notably is less experienced in the line, although the backfield is the best around. The Panthers have averaged over three touchdowns a game, but most of the time it was the defense who set up the scores.

That defense, for the record, has given up exactly 1.0 points per game. In other words, Magnolia's opponents have scored one touchdown in seven weeks.

Magnolia lines up in the monster setup, the same as the Bobcats. Returning at left defensive end is senior Pat Weber, a 210-pounder. Weber has started both on offense and defense, and is an All-District nominee. On the other end is David Rogers, a 175-pound senior who played last season at monster man.

Hal Dodson is a three-year starter at tackle, and he packs his 225 pounds into a pretty good wallop. The other tackle is Bob McMahen, a 180-pound junior showing up well after playing end last year.

Crumpler held the noseman position last year, but this season he has relinquished the duties to Jimmy Doss, a slight 150-pound senior who was injured and didn't play at Hope last year. As a junior Doss spent much of his time at linebacker, but has made the transition well to noseman. Linebacker Charles Bishop was a big difference in the 1967 game, and the 170-pound senior is back again. A good tackler and pass defender, Bishop has worked well with his partner, junior Johnny Gean. Since defensive end Rogers was moved from the monster man spot, Aubrey Caloway has filled the appointment well as a junior.

The defensive secondary returns two out of three starters, losing speedster Randy Fitzhugh. Taking his place is junior Steve Northcutt, a 160-pounder who quarterbacked an unbeaten junior high team several years back, as did present QB Waters and junior Billy Daugherty, who starts at the other defensive halfback. Daugherty is the Panthers' backup man for Mike Waters, and his passing arm is second to none in accuracy.

Back at safety is another former signal-caller, senior John Savage. A 150-pounder, Savage was tough on coverage last year and has improved as a one-way performer.

From the looks of things, Magnolia should not rank with Magnolia or Fairview on offense, but their defensive eleven is the best in 4-AA. With a strong kicking game to back things up, Magnolia is quite formidable, playing in their beautiful new stadium which was dedicated last year.

Tonight is the night for the Bobkittens, as they finish their home season at Hammons Stadium with the Magnolia Panther Cubs in a 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

Trying for their third straight win, the Kittens are presently 4-1 with only a 13-2 loss to unbeaten Arkadelphia. Magnolia is no easy touch, and the Panther Cubs beat Hope 12-0 on Halloween Night last year.

A-State Climbs to 8th in College Poll

Unbeaten San Diego State increased its lead over North Dakota State today in The Associated Press' small college football poll.

San Diego State, bringing its record to 5-0 with a 34-14 victory over California State of Los Angeles last Saturday, was returned to the top spot with 284 points by the regional panel of 15 sports writers and broadcasters.

San Diego State drew 10 first-place ballots and was not placed lower than fourth by any member of the panel. North Dakota State drew 195 points following a 14-8 triumph over North Dakota that lifted its record to 6-0. San Diego State led North Dakota State by 54 points the previous week.

After the top two there was considerable juggling with Eastern Kentucky falling all the way from third to 11th after a 31-20 defeat by Akron. Texas A&M also dropped down, from fifth to 10th after losing to East Texas State 35-27.

Western Kentucky, which received two first-place votes, moved up one notch into third off a 13-0 shutout of Tennessee Tech. New Mexico Highlands climbed two spots to fourth with an 85-14 victory over Colorado Mines, and Chattanooga vaulted from ninth to fifth by beating East Tennessee 16-6.

Northern Michigan and Indiana, Pa., both broke into the top ten, Northern moving into seventh with a 47-0 victory over the Quantico Marines, and Indiana taking ninth following a 28-0 triumph over Valparaiso.

Weber State moved from seventh to sixth and Arkansas State, with one first-place vote, moved up two spots to eighth.

Appalachian received the other two first-place votes. The top 20, with first place votes, records and total points. Points awarded for the first 15 picks on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-8-6-4-2-1.

U.S. Medal Cascade Continues

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer MEXICO CITY (AP) — A breath of scandal, a hint of under-the-counter payoffs around the world, threw another darkening cloud over the 19th Olympic Games today, while the United States continued to gather a golden cascade of medals.

The Americans picked up six more gold medals Wednesday, including their first two in sports other than track and swimming, and the Russians began to make their move in gymnastics, in which 36 gold medals are awarded.

In all, the Americans now have 81 medals, including 35 gold, and the Russians have 49, with 15 gold.

Dan Ferris, 79, white-haired secretary emeritus of the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union and a newly elected member of the Council of the International Athletic Federation, ruling body for track and field around the world, dropped the bombshell about commercial firms paying athletes to use their products.

"Indications are that payoffs have been made to athletes of virtually all countries," he said, and added that an "investigation" centers around those athletes who did not see fit to notify their superiors of the payments.

He said the payoffs range from five hundred dollars to six thousand dollars.

Everett Barnes, acting director of the U.S. Olympic Committee, said in a prepared statement that "at this time we have nothing to substantiate the rumors with respect to athletes subject to our jurisdiction."

"If anyone has any concrete evidence to offer about U.S. athletes in this connection we shall be pleased to follow up the information."

And Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said:

"I have not yet received any concrete evidence that any athlete has received any money. Any investigation of this kind must be undertaken by the National Federation concerned."

"Then the National Federation reports to the International Federation, and if it is proved beyond any doubt that any Olympic athlete has received money, the International Federation must suspend him."

"If that happens, then any athlete who won any medal in the Mexican games automatically would forfeit it."

The controversy is only one of many that has plagued these troubled Games, but, like all the others, the effects—if any—on the athletes appear negligible.

Bill Steinkraus, 43, Noroton, Conn., riding Snowbound, won the gold medal in individual horse jumping—including one perfect round—and Gary L. Anderson, Axtell, Neb., won the free rifle competition, breaking his own world record with 1157 of a possible 2000. Russian Valentin Kornev was second at 1151.

"I think you'd have to say my experience contributes something to it," Steinkraus said after his victory. He has been a member of the American Olympic equestrian team since 1952.

The United States picked up four more gold medals in swimming, including its first ever in the women's 200-meter breaststroke. Sharon Wichman, 16, Fort Wayne, Ind., copied it in Olympic record time of 2:44.4. Russian Galina Prozumenshikova was third.

The victory came as a surprise since the American ace, Cattle Ball, had withdrawn from the qualifying heats because of illness.

Mike Burton, Carmichael, Calif., took the men's 400-meter freestyle in Olympic record time of 4:09, beating Canada's world record holder, Ralph Hutten, by three meters.

Kay Hall, 17, Tacoma, Wash., pulled an upset by edging Canada's favored Elaine Tanner in the women's 100-meter backstroke in 1:06.2, a world record. Jan Swaggerty, 17, Stockton, Calif., was third.

Charles Hickcox of Phoenix, Ariz., in 4:48.4, and Gary Hall, Garden Grove, Calif., finished one-two in the men's 400-meter individual medley. Michael Holsthus of West Germany was third, just edging Greg Buckingham, Atherton, Calif.

The U.S. had to be content with a third, by Sue Peterson, Bellevue, Wash., in the women's platform dive. Milena Duchkova of Czechoslovakia won it with Russian Natalia Lobanova second.

Pierre Franco Vianelli of Italy won the cycling individual open road race, and Josef Zedek of Poland took the rapid

Olympic Aid Probe Continues

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer MEXICO CITY (AP) — A former Olympic gold medalist said today the Olympic Games some day probably will be the open Olympics, without differentiation between amateur and professional.

"It appears to be the most realistic solution to the present problem," said Harold Connolly, 240-pound hammer thrower from Culver City, Calif., who won his specialty at Melbourne in 1956.

"Olympic officials now are showing great concern over reports that some athletes have received financial inducements to use certain equipment made by big companies."

"There is nothing shocking about this. Such practices have been going on for years. It is common knowledge among the athletes themselves."

"I understand the International Olympic Committee has set up a commission to study the amateur-professional question and a report is expected at the Warsaw meeting in 1969. Out of this may come a new and more realistic definition of what constitutes an Olympic athlete."

Connolly, an articulate English professor married to the former Czech discus winner Olga Fikotova, indicated that he wouldn't be surprised if the Olympics adopts the new tennis image.

Among many tennis-playing nations, fed up with hypocrisy of so-called amateur players, the designation "amateur" has been eliminated and players are simply called "players."

Thus a discus thrower would be a discus thrower and a 400-meter runner a runner, with no questions of where his money comes from.

The fading 1968 Olympics were stunned anew this week with wild rumors that athletes, including some medal winners, were in danger of being declared professionals because they accepted money from manufacturers.

Everett "Eppy" Barnes, acting executive director of the U.S. Olympic Committee, admitted that his committee has been investigating such reports, but in a formal statement Wednesday night said:

"At this time we have nothing to substantiate the rumors with respect to athletes subject to our jurisdiction."

However, white-haired Dan Ferris, secretary emeritus of the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union and member of the Council of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, said almost every country in the world had been touched with such violations with payments running between $50 and $6,000.

"The practice is deplorable," said Ferris. "I plan to suggest to both the IOC and the IAAF that all markings—not just names but stripes—be erased from every bit of equipment."

"If equipment was such that no one could tell what company made it, perhaps these abuses would stop."

Most athletes questioned on the probe scoffed at it. They predicted no one ever would be called on the carpet, no medals confiscated.

Many top international athletes are known to have financial help from the outside—sometimes from a friend or sponsor, occasionally from a commercial firm.

Told that the current Olympic probe might provoke the recall of medals already won, an athlete who asked not be identified said:

"They don't want to open that can of worms. It would be another Pandora's box."

"If they took away any medals, there would be enough squealing to cause the revoking of medals 20 years back. In this business, nobody is pure."

The Russians picked up three medals, one of them gold, in the two final gymnastic competitions, but had to share the glory with pretty Vera Charklavskaya of Czechoslovakia.

The Russians, expected to dominate the competition, won the women's team title.

Prep School Favorites Friday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The mathematical possibilities in the 1AA football race could be reduced immeasurably Friday night.

Currently, at least six of the eight teams in the race have a chance at a portion of the championship.

Bentonville, Harrison and Rogers are tied for the lead in the region with 3-1 records. Subiaco, Huntsville and Mountain Home all have two marks against them in the loss column.

Friday night, each of the teams with one loss takes on one of the teams with two losses. Mountain Home is at Bentonville. Subiaco is at Harrison and Rogers is at Huntsville.

Bentonville looked to be the class of the conference until last week, when it was upset by Harrison. Now it's anybody's race.

Very few members of the top ten in the Associated Press Arkansas High School football poll figure to be in much danger this week. The exception could be North Little Rock, which risks its No. 4 ranking against Class AA Conway. Conway quarterback Mike New is supposed to be one of the best in the state, but North Little Rock's Bennie Davis has been doing a good job of late.

NFL Lineman of Week Is Larry Cole

NEW YORK (AP) — When the high-powered pro scouts checked their files, took a last look at the game films and ran their data through a bank of computers before the draft last spring, Larry Cole was No. 428 on the list.

The Dallas Cowboys took Cole, a 6-foot, 4, 230-pound tackle, from the University of Hawaii and Granite Falls, Minn., in the 16th round, their next to last pick. His thumbnail sketch was crowded out of their press book.

Cole, a tall blond youngster, put on 25 pounds during the summer and won himself a job on the Cowboy squad. In the last two weeks, he has moved into the regular line-up of the famous Domeside Defense as a replacement for the injured Willie Townes at left end.

Against the Minnesota Vikings in his home country last Sunday, Cole blocked a field goal attempt and hit Joe Kapp, Minnesota quarterback, so hard that his wobbly pass was intercepted by Cornell Green. Then he threw a block that sprung Green on a 55-yard touchdown run with the interception.

As a result of this performance, the rookie was named by The Associated Press as the defensive player of the week in the National Football League.

Tigers to Ashdown on Friday

By BEN PERKINS

ARTHUR MAXWELL
Yerger Sportswriter
The Yerger Tigers go to Ashdown Friday night. The Tigers will be shooting for their sixth victory, without a defeat.

The Tigers' defense has allowed only 46 points through their first 6 games. But the Tigers have much more going for them than just defense. They have much more going for them than a versatile offense, too. The strength of the Tigers lies in two words stressed by Coach Tate—pride and execution. The Tigers have something to prove in '68, and they are out to do it.

The Tigers' attack is more formidable by virtue of better balance. Quarterback Block says Yerger has outstanding running

Fans Told How to Reach Magnolia Field

Jack Clemens, principal of Magnolia High School, sent the Star instruction for local fans on the best way to reach the Panther's football stadium. He writes as follows:

The Magnolia High School will host your school in the new high school football stadium for the first time in our game Friday night. Visitors frequently have trouble locating and entering the field for the first time. Please follow these directions and you should have no trouble finding the stadium.

Fans and buses coming in to Magnolia should continue on Highway 82 coming from Waldo until they reach North Street. Peace Builders Supply is on the north side of the street and an American gas station is on the south side of the street.

Turn left on to North Street and continue about two miles until you come to the football field. The football field can be readily identified by the light poles. Turn left on to Bradley Street, go 1/2 block and turn into the east parking lot. The east parking lot is on the side opposite from the press box. Visiting buses may drive into the football field. Visiting fans will park in the east parking lot on the outside of the fence.

We are asking the Hope fans, band, and pep squad to sit on the east side of the field. The restroom facilities are available under the stands on the west side.

Securities Commissioner to Resign

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Securities Commissioner Don S. Smith said Wednesday he would resign soon because he was tired and wanted to resume his teaching career. Smith made the announcement while asking the Arkansas Legislative Council to recommend another $17,000 for his agency next year to improve its policing of Arkansas securities dealings. Smith also asked for an increase in the commissioner's salary from $10,800 a year to $15,000.

Broyles Says Practice Satisfactory

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks whipped through a hour and 45-minute practice Wednesday, one that Coach Frank Broyles termed "satisfactory."

The Razorbacks worked mostly on pass defense and offense with emphasis also on tackle drills. Arkansas is preparing for Saturday's game with North Texas State in Little Rock. Both teams have 4-1 records. North Texas had defeated New Mexico State 47-20, Colorado State 17-12, Northern Michigan 17-3, Tulsa 20-17 and lost to Memphis State 30-12. In comparison, Arkansas whipped Tulsa 56-13.

North Texas will be in top physical condition for the game, Arkansas will be without line-backer Dennis Berner, tailback David Dickey and fullback Bruce Maxwell, all starters, Broyles also said it was questionable whether starting defensive back Gary Adams would play.

Better Chance

Infants in the mid-20th century are healthier and have a better chance of survival than at any time in history. The infant mortality rate in the United States in 1900 was about 150 per 1,000 live births; the rate today is about 25 per 1,000 live births.

Homecoming Royalty

HOMECOMING ROYALTY — Reigning over homecoming festivities at Southern State College in Magnolia Saturday (Oct. 26) will be Queen Sarajane Collins of Texarkana (center). With her Homecoming Maids (from left) Sharon DeWoody of Gordon, Peggy Burton of Magnolia, Gayle Williams of Hope and Gwen Golden of Magnolia, she will ride in a parade through downtown Magnolia at 2:30 and will be crowned at half-time during the tussle between the Muleriders and SCA Bears in Wilkins Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Other events scheduled include registration of alumni from 1 to 5:30 at the College Center, an alumni dinner and reception following the game. Miss Williams is the daughter of Mrs. Lucy Mae Williams of 1500 S. Hervey, a 1966 graduate of Hope High and a junior medical technology major at Southern State.

Carolina. Wallace is strongly in the running with Nixon for the Southern states that Truman carried, including Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Outside the South, Wallace's vote could cut into Humphrey's strength, as Thurmond's support did not do in Truman's case. However, Henry A. Wallace, running on the Progressive ticket, cost Truman New York's 47 electoral votes 20 years ago. Dewey topped Truman by only about 61,000 in the popular count while Wallace was polling 509,000, of which a substantial number probably should have gone to the Democratic nominee.

The major parties discount George Wallace's appeal in New York state.

The Wallace vote could also make the difference in other key states. The Republican assumption is that he will take blue-collar votes that otherwise might have gone to Humphrey. The Democratic contention is that he will take away some of the anti-administration protest vote from Nixon.

Because he had a relatively strong Southern base, Truman won in 1948 by carrying only five of the nine largest industrial states—California, Illinois, Ohio, Texas and Massachusetts. Without a secure Dixie base, with little hope for Illinois where Nixon counts himself strongest, and facing a stiff challenge in Texas, Humphrey can hardly afford to duplicate Truman's losses in New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New Jersey.

With Dewey's experience in mind, however, Republican strategists have been concerned recently with reports that Democrats are likely to be elected in sufficient numbers to retain control of the House and Senate.

Twenty years ago the Democrats took nine Senate seats away from the Republicans without losing any of their own, gaining operating control of that body. They took over the House with a startling gain of 74 seats, giving them 263 at the start of the 81st Congress.

Truman carried eight of the nine states where a Democrat replaced a GOP senator, Delaware being the only exception. This was the year when Humphrey helped Truman carry Minnesota. It also was the year of the first Senate election of Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma and Douglas of Illinois.

If the Democratic candidates of 20 years ago were not all happy about being on the ticket with Truman, there was not such a broad and deep-seated party division over major policies as now plagues Humphrey.

If the vice presidential catches any senatorial coattails, he will have to depend in many instances on candidates who disagree with him on the Vietnam war and other Johnson administration policies and actions.

These include Sen. Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, former Rep. John J. Gilligan of Ohio, Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana, Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, Sen. J.W. Fulbright of Arkansas and Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

In contrast to Truman's day, California has a divided and disorganized Democratic party which Humphrey is trying desperately to patch together. The vice president's strategists hope that Alan Cranston, the Democratic senatorial nominee, will help pull some votes Humphrey's way. Cranston is leading by a wide margin in most polls, but Humphrey is trailing Nixon.

Truman carried California, with its 40 electoral votes, without any local candidate help.

The 1948 nominee had no difficulty in carrying Texas and its 23 electoral votes against Dewey and Thurmond. Humphrey remains in deep trouble with Nixon and Wallace running strongly in that state.

Missouri was Truman's home state and he captured its 15 votes going away. But Wallace and Nixon have complicated matters there for Humphrey.

Berkeley Is Again Hit by Sit-in BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Campus police arrested 120 persons who staged a sit-in at the University of California's administration building Tuesday in an effort to obtain academic credit for an experimental course on racism in America.

Buses arriving from the Alameda County sheriff's office to transport those arrested to the Santa Rita detention center drew a crowd of about 3,000 outside the building. The California Highway Patrol and sheriff's deputies moved those persons off the campus.

The crowd chanted, "We are the people, we are the people!" as those arrested—mostly students—were taken from the campus police headquarters to buses.

Demonstrators in the crowd lit a bonfire and turned over a motorized cart owned by the university. A tear gas canister was thrown and a bank window was broken.

The sit-in on the 27,000-student campus started shortly after the course's third lecture, this one by Eldridge Cleaver, the Black Panther leader whose participation in the classes drew objections from the university's Board of Regents.

Cleaver, charged with attempted murder during a shoot-out between his militant Negro organization and Oakland police, had told the class after the sit-in was proposed: "If you think this is worthwhile then do your thing."

When it was originally announced that Cleaver would lecture 10 times during the course, regents ruled that a person without academic credentials could appear only once in a course given for credit.

Chancellor Roger Heyns subsequently provided a room for the racism course, but ruled that the university would not give credit to students taking it. Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan and Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh—both regents—spoke out from Sacramento against the sit-in.

Reagan said the public "shouldn't have to put up with" such demonstrations and said they were the "inevitable result of appeasement, and appeasement is the policy followed by the university administration for too long a time."

Unruh sent a telegram to Heyns suggesting an "inquiry into the question of whether Eldridge Cleaver in today's lecture on the campus, provoked or counseled students to take this action."

"If so, Mr. Cleaver should be permanently barred from future appearances as a lecturer at the university before any class, whether for credit or not," Unruh said.

The sit-in itself was relatively calm. Between 250 and 300 persons sat down in the registrar's office in Sproul Hall at 1 p.m. They refused to leave at 5:30 p.m. when Vice Chancellor R.L. Johnson said the building would be closed at 7 p.m. and those remaining inside would be subject to disciplinary proceedings.

Demonstrators had dwindled to about 150 when arrests started. Those had voted to remain nonviolent, to refuse bail until arraignment and to go on a hunger strike as long as they remained in jail.

Campus police Sgt. Robert Ludden informed demonstrators they would be subject to citations for unlawful assembly and trespassing. At 10:30 a.m. police started taking persons into custody. The decision to make arrests was made by Heyns.

Astronauts Discuss Flight With Others

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 7 astronauts, back from 11 days in orbit, continue meetings with project officials here today and confer with three other spacemen who may fly around the moon in December.

Discussions between technical experts and Apollo 7 pilots Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham will have a bearing on whether the Apollo 8 astronauts get a go-ahead to rocket moonward or make another earth-orbital voyage.

The Apollo 8 pilots—Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders—rehearsed Wednesday how to escape from launch pad emergencies.

Navy Capt. Schirra; Eisele, who was promoted to an Air Force lieutenant colonel by President Johnson, and civilian astronaut Cunningham were described in "generally excellent" health after completing a physical examination Wednesday.

Schirra, Cunningham and Eisele flew to Cape Kennedy

Thursday, October 24, 1968

Wednesday from the deck of the aircraft carrier Essex. They were welcomed by more than 500 members of the team that launched them into orbit Oct. 11.

The three astronauts will remain at Cape Kennedy until Saturday, when they will fly to their own homes at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., for a reunion with their families.

'69 Impala Custom Coupe

Just sitting there, this '69 Chevrolet can do four things competitive cars can't:

It can wash its headlights. It can apply liquid tire chain to its rear wheels. It can silently defog or defrost the rear window. It can keep you cool or warm automatically with Comforton — the self-adjusting air-conditioning system. And once you've added all these wonderful devices to a new Chevrolet, you just can't imagine why anyone would give a second thought to a second-place car. The headlight washers and liquid tire chain for traction on slippery roads are operated at the touch of a button from the driver's seat. So is the silent new rear-window defroster. Invisible ceramic strips on the glass heat up to keep the window clear. Also available: Chevrolet's Light Monitoring System that lets you know from inside if all your outside lights are working, full four-speaker stereo, a smooth 3-speed Turbo Hydra-matic transmission. All in a car made quieter, made stronger, made more comfortable. Now at your Chevrolet dealer's. We've said it before, and we'll say it again. Match this, you other '69s! Putting you first, keeps us first.

Mixed Drinks Policing Impossible

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Police Chief R. E. Brians of Little Rock said Wednesday the question of mixed drink sales at private clubs was "an impossible area as far as policing is concerned."

Brians said the problem probably will remain controversial until some basic change is made in the state laws governing the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Pulaski County Sheriff Frank Mackey and North Little Rock Police Chief Reo Bowman agreed with Brians that the status of the private club mixed drink situation had merely returned to where it was before the controversy over the Class 6 permits that were issued by the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

The ABC Board had issued several dozen of the permits before Chancellor John T. Jernigan ruled Oct. 11 that the permits, which had authorized private clubs to serve mixed drinks, were illegal and he ordered the ABC to recall and cancel the permits that were issued.

Miss Cohan Says She Has No Talent

NEW YORK (AP) — Half a century ago, George M. Cohan encouraged performers to entertain American servicemen "Over There."

Today, in a different war, in a different place, his granddaughter Michaela has been doing just that.

Miss Cohan, who was 25 Wednesday, returned earlier this month from 13 months in Vietnam where she was an Army service club director.

Unlike her famous grandfather, the attractive, brown-haired girl did not sing or dance.

"I don't have the talent," she said.

Instead, Miss Cohan explained, her job was "sort of like being a stage manager," arranging for USO shows and making sure the service clubs ran smoothly.

Miss Cohan said she preferred not to discuss the political aspects of the war. In answer to a question, however, she said, "I don't think patriotic sentiments are old fashioned."

Her grandfather's patriotic efforts—with songs like "I'm a Yankee Doodle Dandy" and "It's a Grand Old Flag"—won recognition from President Franklin D. Roosevelt who presented the composer with the Congressional medal for his "outstanding contributions to the American spirit."

Miss Cohan said she never knew her grandfather. "He died the year before I was born," she said, but added, "I've heard his songs since the time I was born. I love his music."

She got to listen to some of that music Wednesday night when she attended the Broadway show "George M!" which is based on Cohan's life.

Miss Cohan said she "used to push" her grandfather's songs in the service clubs by playing a tape recording of the show. But, she lamented, "most of the GIs over there don't know him or have never heard the songs. They're too young—only 18."

Gesturing frequently, Miss Cohan explained she joined the Army's Special Services Division as a civilian when she graduated from Marywood College in Scranton, Pa. She went first to Korea where she spent 14 months, then Vietnam. She said her father, George M. Cohan Jr., was in special services during World War II.

1.1 Million Pupils Out in New York

By BOB MONROE

NEW YORK (AP) — A teachers' strike paralyzes the 1.1 million pupil public school system, police patrolmen continue a work slowdown and firemen start one today—but for most visitors there is little visible evidence of New York's intensifying municipal labor crisis.

The 900 schools, most of them located with only custodians inside, are off the usual tourist path; most police cars still patrol the streets and fire engines continue to respond to emergency calls with sirens wailing.

As the strike by the 55,000-member United Federation of Teachers cost another day of classes—the 19th of 30 in the fall term—the Board of Education made new moves aimed at ending the walkout.

The board announced Tuesday night it would seek an injunction against the administrator Rudy McCoy, and governing board of the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimental school district in Brooklyn to prevent them from interfering with the reinstatement of 80 displaced white teachers.

At the same time the central board said Mayor John V. Lindsay would temporarily close Junior High School 271—one of Ocean Hill's eight schools—if the union would call off its third strike of the term. The union has charged that teachers were harassed at JHS271.

Union President Albert Shanker said he would present the board statement to the UFT delegate assembly at a meeting today but declined to comment further.

John Dear, president of the central board, said the strikes had already cost the city $19 million in state aid and declared, "The time to end this dispute is now."

High school seniors are being permanently handicapped by their efforts to enter the college of their choice, Dear continued. "They suffer academically, their chances for scholarship consideration declines, their very futures are being impaired. Students in all grades have lost momentum which will be increasingly difficult to regain."

Unruh May Run for Governor

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Jesse M. Unruh, speaker of the California Assembly and long a power in Democratic politics, says he is seriously considering running for governor in 1970, when Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan is up for re-election.

Unruh, speaking at Fresno State College, said Monday he would resign from the speakership he has held since 1961 "before embarking on such a campaign."

Life In Arkansas

By TOMMY YATES

Associated Press Writer

As best that can be told, Arkansas seemed to have survived their second test of daylight saving time void of unusual incidents.

DST reverts to Central Standard Time at a.m. Sunday. That means persons will have to adjust their clocks and watches by turning the big hand back one hour.

When DST went into effect in Arkansas last year, there was some conflict of opinion about how the time change would work, and, probably, the cows and chickens never did adjust.

The system, however, went over big with the urbanites and it was advantageous for recreational areas.

The change over to CST has caused some confusion already. And R. L. Fisher, editor of the Yell County Record, admits it. He said he would be better off to never mention DST again in his column.

"I missed the changeover by a day one time and I may have missed it about a month this time—although I was very definite about not knowing exactly when the change was to take place," Fisher said.

"I've got an encyclopedia that is 10 years old and they were supposed to send something every year keeping up to date with changes," he said. "I guess they didn't bother to keep up with changes in DST because they weren't very definite to

Miss Paar Can't Keep Her Lion

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Radcliffe College has told Randy Paar, daughter of television personality Jack Paar, that she would have to find some place besides a school dormitory to raise a 10-week-old lion cub.

Mrs. Gerald Peabody, house chaperone at the off-campus Shepard House, discovered the cub's presence Monday after she heard the animal make "a funny noise."

She then learned that the lion had been living with Randy and 30 other upperclasswomen and had even been taking strolls through the neighborhood on a leash.

"He's very friendly and he doesn't bite," she added. But the college rules don't allow for keeping a house cat, much less a lion, in the dormitories and Randy agreed Tuesday to take the pet home to her father this weekend.

Paar likes lions and brought three home last summer from a trip to Africa. He eventually gave them to a Florida zoo and the zoo owners had asked Randy to care for one for a while.

He said the encyclopedia noted that DST was set up by law during World War I, which called for clocks to be moved up an hour on the last Sunday in March and turned back again on the last Sunday in October.

He said the book says that the law was repealed but that many cities and states continued DST independently and that the plan was revived during World War II. Then he quoted the last sentence on the subject in The World Book Encyclopedia:

"Clocks are now usually turned back again on the last Sunday in September."

Discipline Lack Cited for Unrest

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. Spiro T. Agnew says lack of parental discipline and a breakdown of communications between government and youth are causes of student unrest in the United States.

Agnew addressed a $120-a-plate dinner Tuesday night in the Back Bay Sheraton Plaza Hotel only an hour after some 200 young peace demonstrators clashed briefly with police in front of the hotel.

The Republican vice presidential nominee entered the hotel through a back door and did not see the demonstrators.

In his speech Agnew said many parents disapprove of the children's actions, "but not enough to do anything about it."

He said a lack of communication between government and the youth of America leads the young people to feel "that the establishment doesn't care. And I think it's time the establishment began to care."

The Maryland governor outlined a program he said would correct this situation:

— Internships in government for graduate students.

— Summer jobs for young people in governmental agencies.

— Frequent meetings between college faculty members and governmental officials to keep communications lines open.

Capitol - Grounds Study Is Completed

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant Presents Plan to Legislative Council

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant today presented to the Legislative Council a look into the future progress for Arkansas. This glimpse of efficiency and beauty is contained in a comprehensive development plan for the Arkansas State Capitol and grounds. The plan includes such pleasant additions as a visitor's center, a state library, and a natural forest and park. The plan itself is the result of a thorough two year study, but it is the remarkable foresight of the Arkansas Legislature which makes the plan possible. Six years ago, the Legislature authorized the purchase of 20 additional acres of land, located west of the present Capitol grounds. This area consists of a triangular plot between the railroad and Seventh Street and these additional 20 acres give Arkansas a total of 60 acres suitable for development. During this acquisition, the Revenue Building was constructed. In 1967, the Legislature, realizing the importance of having an efficient, functional, comfortable and economical environment for citizens conducting business, and the many visitors who come to our Capitol, authorized and instructed Secretary of State Kelly Bryant to study and present a comprehensive development plan. Mr. Bryant joined with Bruce R. Anderson, architect, and James A. Hatcher of Associated Planners, Inc., and their staffs to develop a plan which would make the best and most economical use of the 60 acres.

Obviously, this was not a simple task. Months of research and study were necessary; research which included trips to other state capitols, analysis of basic data on state government agencies, their functions and needs, topographic surveys, soil test borings, and utilities analyses. The final comprehensive plan is a result of all these findings, plus a thorough study of all plans projected for the metropolitan area of Little Rock.

The plan presented today to the Legislative Council consisted of a comprehensive report and two models. These models were constructed at the scale of 1-inch-equals-50-feet to portray the Development Plan more realistically.

The first model illustrates the present Capitol grounds, showing all existing buildings as well as new structures and improvements that are needed today. This model shows a new office building, Library-Archives Building, completion of the Justice Building, additional accessible parking, adequate pedestrian walkways, a visitor's center, and a natural forest and park which may be eligible for federal grants.

The second model projects development to keep pace with the growth of Arkansas. This plan for the future uses all existing structures on the Capitol grounds with the exception of those that are of a temporary nature or cannot be economically remodeled into efficient office space. New buildings, when needed, would be constructed in locations conducive to a well-planned and co-ordinated traffic system, accessible parking areas and decks, comfortable and safe pedestrian walkways and properly co-ordinated utility services. Most of the proposed structures have parking decks below the first floor. These parking decks are made possible by the natural slope of the land.

Throughout the study, the goal of efficient and economical progress was kept firmly in mind, and the resulting plan embodies this goal. In his concluding remarks to the Legislative Council, Mr. Bryant stated, "I am honored to have been directed by the legislature and to have had the opportunity to make the first comprehensive model development plan. I feel that, if studied and followed, this plan will result in greater efficiency and add to the beauty of the State Capitol. And, most important, this plan can save thousands of dollars on construction costs in the future."

The four-foot by eight-foot permanent models of the plan will be on display in the Capitol Building on the second floor of the rotunda so that the people of Arkansas can see an example of planned progress for Arkansas.

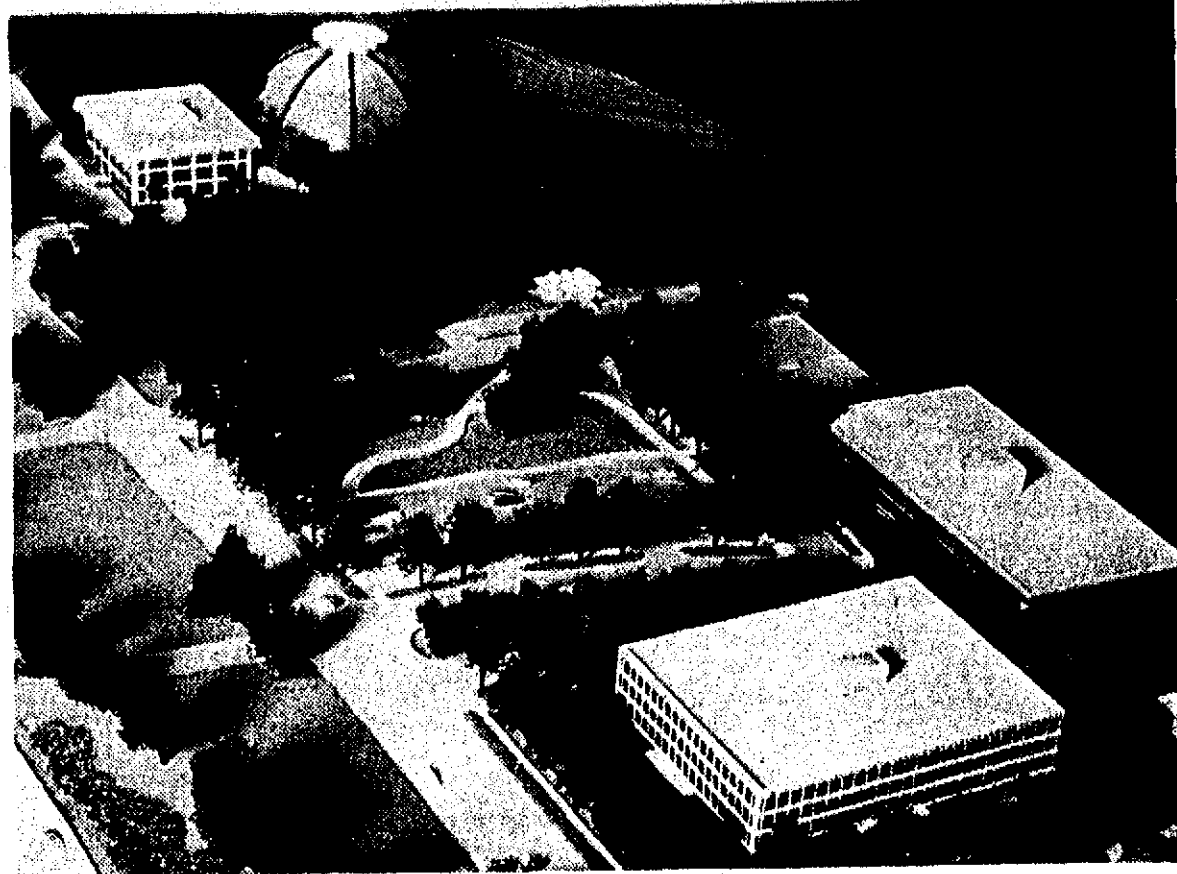

Rep. Talbot Fald of Hempstead County, chairman of the Legislative committee, presided at the meet and highly commended Secretary Bryant for his effort. He said the plan would be studied by his committee and recommendations will be presented to the legislature.

The political beliefs and philosophy of Hubert Humphrey are hopelessly inadequate for the crises of our times," Nixon said in Grand Rapids, Mich. "Their failure is written in the bitterness, and divisiveness and violence of American life today."

Nixon offered no personal comment on Wallace's Nixon-Humphrey debate proposal but a Nixon aide said Wallace obviously was seeking a way to get free television time. "It doesn't change a thing," said press aide Ron Ziegler. "Our position has been that we will not enter into any form of debate that would provide a forum for Wallace."

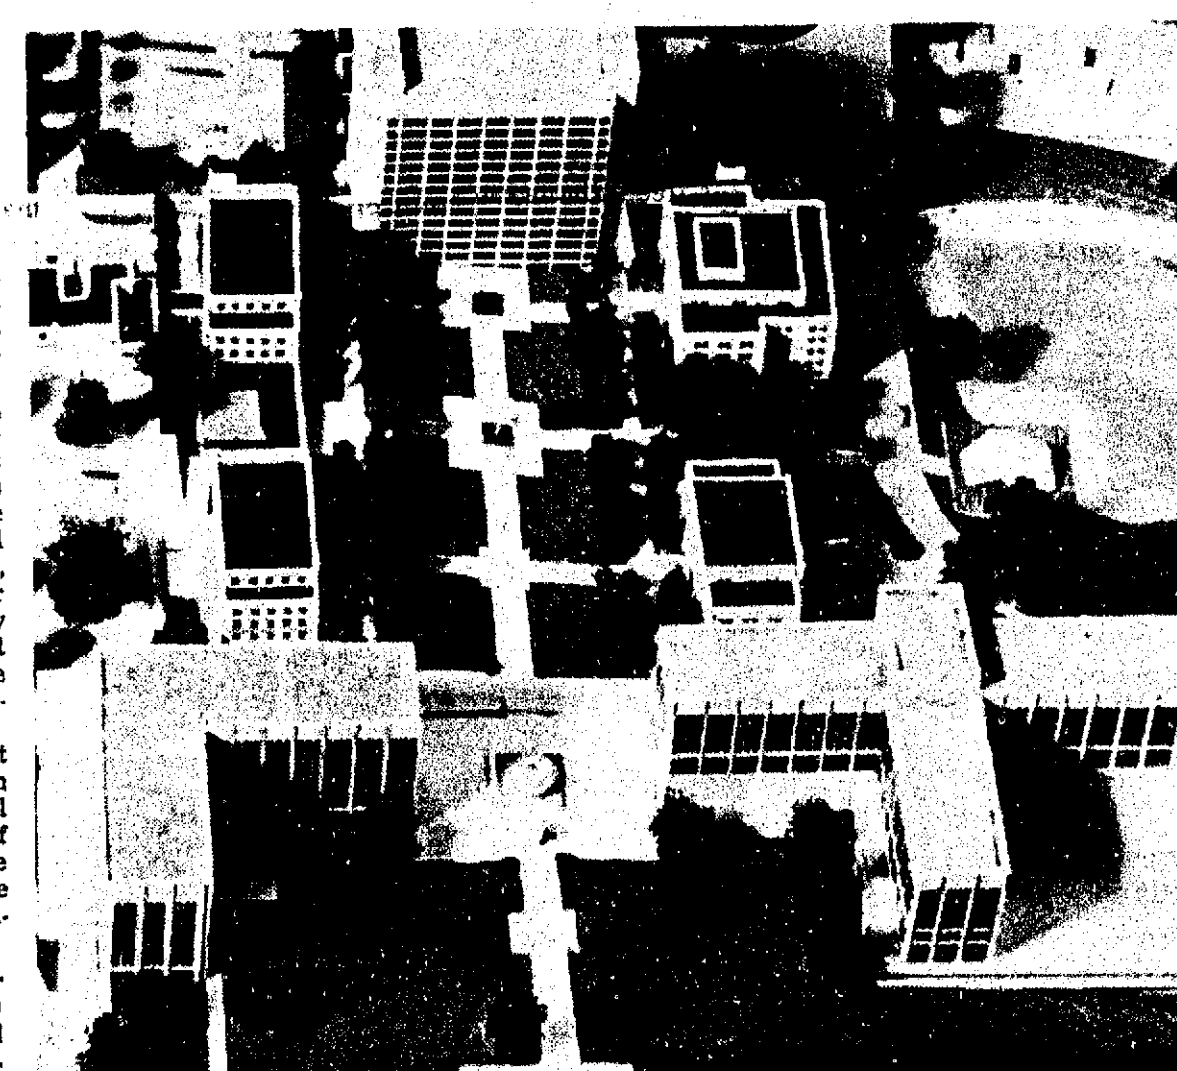

Wallace made the proposal in Roanoke, Va. He said 30 minutes the night after the Nixon-Humphrey debate would be all he'd need to "fix both of them."

The above is a view from the top of the Capitol building looking at the proposed development of the West Mall, showing existing buildings and proposed new office buildings with adequate parking facilities on the lower floors.

Pictured above is the proposed Master Plan submitted by Secretary of State Kelly Bryant to the Legislative Council at their regular meeting today. The Master Plan includes two scale models and complete report covering all phases of the Capitol complex.

The newly acquired 20 acres to the Capitol grounds can be seen at the top of the above picture. Also to the left can be seen the proposed Eighth Street Expressway which is under construction. The new buildings are planned with parking decks to take advantage of the slope of the grounds.

Hoople: Hawkeyes to Stun Purdue; It'll Be Kentucky Over Georgia

—That the Kentucky Wildcats will rip the Georgia Bulldogs' defense to shreds in winning, 36-30?
—That the up-and-down UCLA Bruins will be up this week and down—heh-heh—the favored Stanford Indians?
Yas, dear readers, that's what the renowned Hoople crystal ball foresees for Saturday.

The Iowa lads, who stunned the football world earlier this year by upsetting Oregon State, will ruin Purdue's homecoming celebration as they deal the Boilermakers their second Big 10 loss—har-rumph!
In an important Southeastern Conference clash, the Dicky Lyons-led Kentucky club will hand Georgia its first loss of the year! And out on the West Coast the Bruins will put it all together as they upset powerful Stanford—kaff-kaff!

Candidates All Favor Press Freedom

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey pledged efforts today to reduce the "balance of terror" in U.S.-Soviet relations if elected president and said he favors a supervised worldwide reduction in arms and military spending.

But Republican Richard M. Nixon charged Humphrey is too talkative for delicate diplomacy abroad and said the Democrat's political beliefs and philosophy "are hopelessly inadequate" for crises at home.
Third party candidate George C. Wallace, meanwhile, said he'd welcome an hour-long television Nixon-Humphrey debate so long as he got 30 minutes television time the following night.
But Nixon's camp said Wallace's proposal doesn't change a thing and the debate matter is "closed."
Humphrey said today he supports early U.S.-Soviet talks to end the missile race and beyond that favors worldwide "supervised and carefully safeguarded" reductions in arms and military spending.
"We cannot live forever in a world where our safety, and our security depend on a precarious balance of terror," he said in remarks prepared for an appearance before clergymen in Los Angeles.

In other political developments:
—Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, compared Wallace to Ku Klux Klansmen who harassed Polish and other ethnic groups in New England in the 1920s. "We've got to beat him so badly," Muskie said in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., "that his kind and his message is never heard from again in America."

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, the GOP vice presidential candidate, said in Joplin, Mo.: "If there's ever a time for violence, it's in the attack on crime."
—Curtis E. LeMay, the American independent vice presidential candidate, said he favors birth control and legal abortion. "I'm as religious as a person as anyone," he said in Birmingham, N.Y., "but I think the good Lord put us on this earth to think a bit for ourselves."

Lynda's Friend Sent as Many Are Returned

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warrie Lynn Smith, a close friend of President Johnson's oldest daughter, is being sent to Chile as a U.S. Information Agency officer even as scores of USIA officers are being recalled from overseas.

Miss Smith, a frequent guest at the White House, was maid of honor when Lynda Bird Johnson married Marine Capt. Charles Robb last December. She and Mrs. Robb earlier had been roommates at the University of Texas.
Her appointment as a foreign service reserve officer came last February, less than a month after President Johnson ordered a reduction in government employment overseas in a move to reduce the U.S. balance of payments deficit.
Since then, a USIA spokesman said, the agency's 2,100-man officer corps has been reduced by 88. Sixty USIA officers have been transferred back to Washington from foreign posts, he said, and further cuts are planned.

In his January directive, the President also ordered all department and agency heads to "reduce official travel outside the United States to the minimum consistent with orderly conduct of the government's business."

The USIA confirmed, in response to an inquiry, that Miss Smith was being assigned as assistant cultural affairs officer in Santiago, and disclosed she will visit four capitals en route to Chile.

She will leave Washington Nov. 4.

There are three categories of foreign service officers in the USIA:

1. Foreign Service Officer. He gets his appointment only after passing a rigorous competitive examination.
2. Foreign Service Staff Officer. He, too, must pass a foreign service entrance examination prior to appointment.
3. Foreign Service Reserve Officer. No competitive exam is required. The applicant fills out the necessary papers, goes before a panel of foreign service officers and takes a language aptitude test.

line between "new" and "used?"
In one case an appliance dealer insisted that the TV set he had sold as "new" really was new, even though he had already repossessed it from an earlier purchaser.

"It was new," he explained in court, "in the sense that it was this year's model."

But the court held the second sale invalid because, to the average customer, "new" means never-before-used.

In short, even in secondhand transactions the law fixes a basic standard of fair dealing.

"Honest men need not fear it," said one judge; "dishonest men should fear it."

Secondhand Bargains

Buy a secondhand lawn mower from the man next door and, generally speaking, you take your own chances. If it falls apart sooner than you expected, you would have small chance of getting your money back—at least, in a court of law.
For in the eyes of the law, one ingredient of the typical second-hand purchase is the buyer's acceptance of extra risk. You pay less not only because there is less wear left in the article but also because you don't get the implied assurances that come along with something new.
However, even in a secondhand purchase, you still have a certain degree of protection.

To begin with, you are entitled to know that the article is indeed secondhand. Consider this case:

A music dealer put a used piano, nicely polished, on display among his new pianos—and an unsuspecting woman bought it. When she discovered the instrument was secondhand, she sued the dealer for deceiving her.

"I told her no lies," he protested in court. "She just failed to ask me whether the piano was new."

But the court ruled in the woman's favor. The judge said the dealer had an affirmative duty to clear up a misunderstanding for which he himself was to blame.

Besides information that the merchandise is used, you are entitled also to a fair description of its identity. Thus:

A man who bought a "1964
Ford," which turned out to be a 1963 Ford, won damages in court—despite the fact that he had bought the car "as is." The court decided that "as is" does not include "as isn't."

Today's hand is what is frequently called a "book hand."
The reason is that something like it appears in most books on play to illustrate how a good declarer can substitute certainty for a guess if he is lucky.
This book hand was actually dealt and played in the World Bridge Olympiad match between the United States and Switzerland last summer. It goes to show that these book hands occur in real life.

Arthur Robinson of Philadelphia, who held the South cards, wasted no time getting to seven no-trump after Bobby Jordan opened with one diamond. He knew that at worst the grand slam would depend on finding the queen of diamonds and, when dummy hit the table, Arthur saw that the worst had happened.

He won the heart lead with the ace, cashed his king of clubs and led the jack of clubs to the ace in dummy. When West showed out, Arthur was ready to see if he could not get a complete reading on the diamond suit. He did with no trouble by running off the spades and hearts. East had to follow to all the spade and heart leads so that Bobby could account for 12 of his cards. Three spades, three hearts and six clubs.

Arthur led a diamond to his king. East followed and Arthur was able to finesse against West's queen and make his contract without any worry. That is, any worry at that stage. He had worried plenty when he saw the dummy.

There is one interesting point to the play that makes the hand special. Arthur was careful to leave the high club in his hand. If diamonds had broken 4-0, this would have given him an extra entry to take two diamond finesses and make the grand slam against that break alone.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

More Medical Sleuthing Reveals Trouble Source

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Mr. X complained of pain on movement and tenderness on pressure over his left hip.
There were no other complaints and all X-ray and laboratory findings were normal.
Dr. C. T. Wehby of Cincinnati was puzzled, but he didn't give up his search for hidden clues nor dismiss Mr. X as a hopeless neurotic. By careful and detailed questioning he learned that the trouble cleared up in about a week when Mr. X abstained from driving his car. In fact, the more time he spent behind the wheel the greater was the pain.

It was no good telling Mr.
X to give up driving and there was still the question why he was free of the pain when he rode as a passenger. Dr.
Wehby went back over all the attending circumstances, like a Perry Mason trying to ferret out the real culprit. What he had to go on was one adult male operator of a modern automobile. Somewhere there had to be one more vital clue.

Could it be found in the fat wallet bulging with credit cards and lodge membership cards that Mr. X carried in his left hip pocket? Could it be that when Mr. X drove his car, slouching a bit to the left, the continuous pressure of the wallet on muscles and nerves was causing the trouble? The doctor advised Mr. X to shift his wallet to another pocket and in less than a week he was his old carefree self again. Other doctors (more than you might suppose) reading about this case and having patients with Wehby's syndrome are muttering to themselves, "Now why didn't I think of that?"

Q—I am 40 and have never had a smallpox vaccination.
Would you advise it at my age? Would there be any side effects?

A—I would advise vaccination because use from time to time, even in this well-vaccinated country, an outbreak of this dread disease gets started.
Even if you were vaccinated nine or 10 years ago, you should be revaccinated because the protection gradually disappears. Following an initial vaccination that takes, there will be some tenderness and itching at the site of inoculation. There is also likely to be some swelling and tenderness in the arm pit.
These symptoms will clear up within a few days.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

PILL POPPER NEEDS PUT-DOWN

Dear Helen: We have a friend who is only 14 and already she's taking goofballs. We were at a party and she took 16 pills in three hours. Her mother is on tranquilizers and she gets them from her; she probably gets pep pills the same way, as her mother is a pill nut. Telling on her wouldn't help. She brags that her mother has prescriptions all over town so she can keep a good supply and not get "cancelled" by the drug law that limits you to a certain number.

We think the girl is going to ruin herself. She's already jumpy and nervous, and we hate to be around her. But she's otherwise a good kid with a marvelous personality, and we want to help. What can we do? — WORRIED FRIENDS

Dear Friends: Discuss the situation with your school guidance counselor. The girl is endangering her health and must be stopped. Also, her mother needs a strong reminder that she is actually buying "illegal pills" when she acquires the same prescriptions from a variety of doctors and circulates them at different drug stores. — H

Dear Helen: My parents just won't understand. My boy friend and I are in love but because he is still in school and doesn't have a very good job, we don't want to get married right now. My folks say either get married or give our baby up for adoption, and stop seeing him. I don't see why.

We'll get married in a couple of years, so why make so much fuss about it? I want to keep the baby at home, finish school, keep going with my boy friend, and have a lovely wedding when we're ready. Is this too much to ask? — H.A.

Dear H: It for darn sure is! You're asking that your folks close their eyes to your continuing affair while they care for your illegitimate baby, put you through school, provide a "lovely wedding" when you're ready for it — and what do they get in return? Two more years with a spoiled daughter who won't face up to her responsibilities!

If you two really loved each other, you'd decide for marriage right now, so that you could share your baby and your lives, even though the going might be tough. It's apparent you don't care that much, so break it off before another unwanted baby comes along.

As for keeping the baby: Don't make a decision until you are farther along. The whole picture might change in the next six months. — H

Dear Helen: My step-mother is more like a much-loved sister. She's great and we get along fine. My father is the problem. He tries to boss us both. If they break up, could I have it arranged to live with my step-mother? — DISLOYAL?

Dear Dis: Before it comes to a break-up, I hope all three of you will visit a counselor. He might point out what I suspect: You two willful females are gangling up on a mere man — H.

Goldwater's Campaign Well Financed

By ROBERT K. WALKER
Associated Press Writer
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Arizonaans are being told a vote for Barry Goldwater is an endorsement of the Grand Canyon and the spirit of the Western pioneers.

The message comes from an obviously well-financed campaign to return Goldwater to the U.S. Senate, where he served for 12 years before trying unsuccessfully for the White House four years ago.

Roy Elson, 38, a Democrat making his second try for the Senate, is fighting hard to beat the Republican Goldwater. In 1964 he lost to GOP Sen. Paul Fannin. Elson's main campaign asset is the endorsement of retiring Sen. Carl Hayden, 91.

A supermarket survey published recently by a Phoenix newspaper gave Goldwater 57 per cent, with Elson getting 33 per cent of those interviewed.

Goldwater aides say this is about what their own polls show.

Elson forces acknowledge they are trailing but say the spread is only from 4 to 8 points.

Goldwater, 59, hammers away at crime in the streets and the need for new leadership to end the war in Vietnam. These were chief topics of his 1964 presidential campaign, and he says history has proven him right.

But a hangover from that campaign as to his stance on use of nuclear weapons still haunts him. In 1964 he suffered from his famous "deafening" remark, which he said was erroneously interpreted as advocating use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam.

Elson has concentrated almost entirely on state issues, especially funding of the newly authorized Central Arizona Project.

The Democratic candidate has attacked Goldwater's voting record as being contrary to the interests of Arizona, development of national defense and the space program.

The self-described moderate liberal cites his 15 years as an administrative aide to Hayden as a better qualification than Goldwater's two terms in the Senate.

Elson says he is having trouble raising funds to combat Goldwater's extensive resources. Goldwater reported $150,277 in primary election expenses even though he had no Republican opposition, while Elson put out $54,044 to win an impressive Democratic primary over two opponents.

Goldwater aides say part of the primary cost went to buy advance advertising being used in the general election.

During World Series broadcasts in Arizona, Goldwater commercials were frequent. They extolled Goldwater as champion of pioneer virtues.

Goldwater billboards, showing the conservative leader in Western garb with the Grand Canyon and Monument Valley Scenery in the background, shadow major roads in the metropolitan area.

Shortest book in the Old Testament is Obadiah, with 21 verses.

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Joan Crawford, 60, will substitute for her daughter, Christina, 28, for four programs of the daytime television soap opera, "The Secret Storm."

Joan Crawford will take over her role starting Friday.

When she offered to assume her daughter's role, Miss Crawford said, CBS told her, "You've got to be kidding. We can't afford you."

Europeans Delighted by Flight

LONDON (AP) — The Apollo 7 astronauts took Western Europe's headlines away from Jacqueline and Aristotle Onassis today as newspapers cheered the new American space triumph.

West Germany's Frankfurter Allgemeine looked forward to "colonies in space" and said: "The triumph is now complete... Now men will reach for the moon."

"Success for Apollo Flight Clears Way to Moon," said the headline in Stockholm's Dagens Nyheter.

Europeans were delighted by the humanity, humor and occasional irritability of the three American astronauts during their space marathon.

"It was nice to see the granite-jawed spacemen showing human quirks," said London's Daily Mail.

"Captain Walter Schirra got a bad cold, refused to appear on TV once, made bad jokes and shouted down to earth: 'We are not going to accept some crazy testing we never heard of before.'"

"Let us hope that the first man on the moon will still have the guts to bowl out the boss."

"It was as if they were instinctively reacting against the domination of the machine which governs the course of every space mission," said the London Daily Telegraph.

Another Stockholm newspaper, Svenska Dagbladet, commented: "There can be no doubt that both Washington and Moscow have fitted space flights into a military contest."

On the same theme, the Times of London noted that the last major piece of exploration on earth—in Antarctica—began as a competitive adventure but that competing claims eventually were cast aside by an international treaty dedicating the continent to research.

"Space exploration is in the stage of competitive adventure, with the ominous qualification that the rockets which provide the means are capable also of military application," said the Times.

"This has been the barrier, especially on the Russian side, to proposals for true cooperation."

Nixon Has Rejected Debate Offer

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has rejected the latest proposal for a televised debate with Hubert H. Humphrey—this one coming from third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace.

Although Nixon offered no personal comment, press aide Ron Ziegler said Wednesday the Wallace suggestion "doesn't change a thing" and the debate question remains closed.

Wallace said he'd welcome an hour-long TV debate between the Republican and Democratic candidates, provided the networks "give me 30 minutes" time the next night.

He said he could "fix both of them" in a half-hour.

Ziegler, when asked about the suggestion from Wallace, said: "Our position has been that we will not enter into any form of debate that would provide a forum for Wallace."

Referring to the recent action of Senate Republicans in killing legislation that would have permitted a Nixon-Humphrey debate without requiring the networks to offer Wallace equal time, Ziegler said: "Congress closed the debate issue and it's closed."

The Republican candidate called on voters today to elect a Republican Congress.

In a statement issued in Michigan before embarking on a four-city tour of eastern Pennsylvania, Nixon dealt with what he termed the "harmful consequences of divided government" and said:

"Give me a Republican Congress to work with my Republican administration. I assure the Train Hits Truck at 6th St. Crossing

About 7:45 a.m. a pulpwood truck driven by Andrew Bishop of Hope was hit by an L&A Freight train at the 6th street crossing but nobody was injured.

City Police estimated about $300 damage to the truck. The train engineer was W.S. Starks of Shreveport.

Investigating Officers John Shirley said there are no signal lights at the crossing nor was there a flagman posted.

Yesterday an auto driven by Marie M. Rowe was stopped for oncoming traffic to make a left turn and was hit from behind by a Robinson Co. gravel truck driven by Billy Jackson of Hope 4.

Damage was minor and no charge was filed according to City Policeman Ward.

Innocently Enough It All Started When They Gave Women the Vote

By JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — It all started innocently enough when they gave us the vote.

Who could have foreseen that, given this mile, women would inch their way into every other province previously exclusively male.

Now we've reached the ultimate in togetherness—the Boy Scouts of America have gone coed. The organization's executive board has voted to admit girls to its Explorer program.

What else could you expect in a country where a gentleman can safely offer a lady a cigar only if he has another left for himself; where nearly 4,000 mailmen are mailwomen, where the gals run million-dollar businesses, drive trucks, build houses, tinker with car engines and work as plumbers—at least on television?

I first became aware of the blurring of the line between women's work and men's work when my son was thrust protestingly into a 7th grade sewing class. Later, when my daughter reached that stage in her schooling, she was placed in a metalworking course. The winds of change were blowing.

It wasn't long after this that

Only Pollard Shows for Lie Test, Police Won't Enter Squabble

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas State Police refused today to enter into the squabble between the chairman of the state Republican party and two state Game and Fish Commission officials.

ASP Director Ralph Scott said he had "no intention" of giving GOP chairman Odell Pollard of Searcy and G&F Director Hugh Hackler and commissioner Raymond Farris of Biscoe a polygraph test as requested by Pollard.

The Republican party official countered, however, that he would ask Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller or Prosecutor Richard B. Adkisson to ask Scott to direct that the tests be given to any of the three men who are willing to submit to them.

Pollard challenged the two Game and Fish Commission officials to the lie detector test after the officials told the Arkansas Legislative Council Tuesday an anonymous person purporting to represent Pollard had urged Hackler to retain Pollard's services as an attorney.

The alleged caller had indicated agreement to such a contract would cause Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to drop his attempt to oust Farris from the commission on charges of misconduct in office, the officials said.

Pollard said Wednesday that he wanted the FBI and State Police to investigate the comments of the two officials.

Scott said his department would not enter the case until there is an "official request by someone in authority." He said that likely would be the prosecutor in this case.

"I don't know what the violation is," Scott said. "Unless we are asked to officially enter

HHH Favors an End to Missile Race

By JOHN W. BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today he favors an end to the missile race between the United States and the Soviet Union and a supervised reduction in military expenditures throughout the world.

Campaigning in a state where peace is a major issue, the Democratic presidential candidate also said the war in Vietnam must be ended and called peace "the paramount concern of all our people."

His remarks were prepared for a meeting with a group of Southern California clergymen.

"We cannot live forever in a world where our safety and security depend on a precarious balance of terror," Humphrey said.

Humphrey said he would seek an end to the U.S.-Soviet race in defense missile systems as well as in offensive missiles: "Each extra unneeded missile only brings us nearer the day when we will be unable to stop the plunge into nuclear war."

Humphrey, who trails Republican Richard M. Nixon in the polls in California, was given a boost as he started a two-day campaign tour of the state by Jesse Unruh, speaker of the California Assembly and one of the state's most powerful Democrats.

Unruh made plans to ride in a motorcade with Humphrey and issued a statement saying Humphrey is the candidate who could best reunite and reconcile a divided nation.

Unruh had previously endorsed Humphrey, but two weeks ago he bitterly criticized the Johnson administration's domestic policy as "almost as complete a failure" as its foreign policy.

Humphrey, campaigning hard with the election less than two weeks off and the polls showing him still behind, arrived in California sounding the theme that he and the Democratic party offer the nation's poor and minority groups their best hopes for the future.

War Death Toll Lowest in 3 Weeks

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today reported the lowest weekly American death toll in more than 14 months, hard fighting in the demilitarized zone in which at least 112 North Vietnamese were killed, and the loss of seven U.S. aircraft in South Vietnam in the past two days.

The total of South Vietnamese and enemy casualties also dropped last week, and the reductions resulted from the lull in ground action which has prevailed for three and a half weeks.

U.S. spokesmen said despite the fighting along the northern frontier and the aircraft losses, it was too early to say whether the lull was ending. They said the fighting in the DMZ was the result of allied operations, not the enemy's initiative.

The seven aircraft lost to enemy groundfire included a fighter-bomber, three light observation planes and three helicopters. Five men were killed and five were wounded.

Although there was still no word that Washington and Hanoi had agreed on a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam so as to advance the Paris peace talks, the South Vietnamese government appeared to be making a gesture toward getting the talks moving. It announced that it would accept a

Remains of a Spanish Armada Ship Sunk in 1588 Has Been Found

By DENIS O'CONNOR
DUBLIN (AP) — The remains of the Santa Maria de la Rosa, a ship of the Spanish Armada sunk in 1588, have been found, but hopes of recovering her reputed treasure must wait until next summer.

When Lt. Cmdr. John Gratian, 33, of Britain's Royal Navy, surfaced in the middle of Blasket Sound with the cry, "We've found her!" it ended a four-month search in which 15 divers covered 3,000 acres.

The Santa Maria de la Rosa was one of 24 ships of the Armada which sank off the Irish coast in September 1588 after Philip of Spain's abortive attempt to invade Elizabethan England.

Sydney Wignall, 45-year-old Welsh businessman and chief sponsor of the search, said: "You'll get some idea of the difficulty if I say that we were like 15 Batmen flying over a town of 40,000 population peering into everybody's backyard to find a toy boat."

are accounts of how she sank with only a single survivor of the 233 soldiers and 64 sailors on board.

The divers are silent about any discovery of treasure. Documents in London, dated 1588, say the galleon carried 50,000 gold ducats and 50,000 silver coins. Today that would be worth around $2 million.

John P. King, Dublin lawyer who acts for the diving team says: "We have been granted a license by the Spanish government to salvage Armada wrecks. We deposited a bond of $3,000 in return for which we may retain all objects of historical interest and 80 per cent of all coin or other treasure, the Spanish government retaining the remaining 20 per cent."

The treasure hunt starts again next summer, with underwater metal detectors, diver-to-diver and diver-to-ship telephones, water jets and suction pumps. It is estimated that survey and salvage will last up to five seasons.

Unlikely Humphrey Will Pull a Stunning Upset Like Truman

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In spite of many similarities between the presidential campaigns of 1968 and 1948, changed voting patterns are likely to make it difficult for Hubert H. Humphrey to duplicate Harry S. Truman's stunning upset victory.

The national opinion polls show Republican Richard M. Nixon running substantially ahead now as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was believed to be in 1948.

Democrats hope that candidates for governor and Congress will pull Vice President Humphrey to a plurality in closely contested states as some of them aided Truman in critical areas in 1948.

One factor is the possibility some development might give Humphrey a last-minute surge, perhaps a Vietnam bombing halt that could promise some real progress toward peace.

Without this, Humphrey counts heavily on some local Democratic candidates to provide him with the kind of coal-tail help that Adlai E. Stevenson, running for governor, and Paul Douglas, running for the Senate, gave Truman in Illinois in 1948.

In that year, Truman won Illinois' 28 electoral votes by a margin of 33,612 out of more than 3.9 million popular votes.

But times and voting patterns have changed in Illinois and, perhaps even more importantly, elsewhere.

The eight states Truman carried in the South 20 years ago gave him 99 electoral votes, providing the margin of his 303-189 win over Dewey. The then Democratic Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina collected 39 as a Dixiecrat candidate.

Thurmond, now a Republican senator, is leading the Nixon forces in the politically splintered area that once was the solid Democratic South.

There are clear signs that third-party candidate George C. Wallace won't stop where Thurmond did 20 years ago. Thurmond won only Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South

Tanks Blast 200 Enemy From Bunker

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Moving into the demilitarized zone behind a strike by U.S. B52 bombers, South Vietnamese infantrymen and U.S. Marine tanks blasted about 200 North Vietnamese troops from their bunkers and sent them fleeing after 2½ hours of fighting Wednesday.

It was the heaviest fighting along South Vietnam's northern frontier in six weeks.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam the 3½-week-old lull in the ground fighting continued, and a U.S. spokesman said the flareup in the DMZ did not mean the enemy had broken the lull. He pointed out that the fighting resulted from a U.S. and South Vietnamese sweep into the area, not from a North Vietnamese initiative.

Jet fighter-bombers and artillery pounded the North Vietnamese after the ground forces drove them out, and a sweep of the battlefield produced 95 enemy bodies, U.S. spokesmen said. Seventeen more enemy dead were found in craters opened up by 180 tons of high explosives dropped by six B52 bombers just before the ground force moved in.

Allied losses were three South Vietnamese soldiers killed, 27 wounded, and three U.S. Marines wounded, spokesmen said.

The fighting was in coastal marshlands in the southern half of the DMZ, four miles above Gio Linh, the eastern anchor of a string of allied bases along the northern frontier.

The U.S. Command said the joint task force pulled out of the DMZ at dusk Wednesday. But U.S. Marines and troops from the U.S. Army's 5th Mechanized Division were still sweeping the southern half of the DMZ farther west.

About 75 miles to the south, below Hue, North Vietnamese troops ambushed a unit of American paratroopers from the 101st Airborne Division. The North Vietnamese attacked with machine guns, recoilless rifles and claymore mines, wounding 15 of the Americans. The paratroopers fought their way out without a fatality and reported killing three of the 12 enemy soldiers.

On the Ca Mau Peninsula at the opposite end of South Vietnam, government forces reported killing 39 enemy soldiers in a clash without suffering any losses. Spokesmen also reported two prisoners and 41 enemy weapons were seized.

The air war against North Vietnam's southern panhandle continued unabated. Military sources said U.S. jet bombers were flying missions as usual below the 19th parallel today, and more were being planned for Friday.

Television and Court Docket

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The television viewer who wants to go places and see things had an opportunity for a lot of vicarious travel Wednesday night.

By tuning in the first National Geographic Society special of the CBS season, he could have had a quick trip around a lot of national parks from Hawaii to the Virgin Islands, from Yellowstone to the Grand Canyon.

A bit later came ABC's "Sophia," with some glimpses of the multimillion dollar Roman villa of the Italian film star, Sophia Loren, plus some sights of Rome and Naples.

And then there was a tour of a real Hollywood film studio which served as the background for NBC's special, "The Bing Crosby Show."

If this was not enough action there was on NBC's "Music Hall" an antiseptic simulation of a freewheeling theatrical rite, a Friars' roast, with a number of top comedians sitting at a banquet table with each given a turn insulting the guest of honor, Johnny Carson.

The most exciting film consisted of some color shots of a Hawaiian volcano as it erupted.

The most interesting segment was aerial film over Yellowstone during a roundup of elk, herded into a corral by helicopters acting like airborne cow ponies.

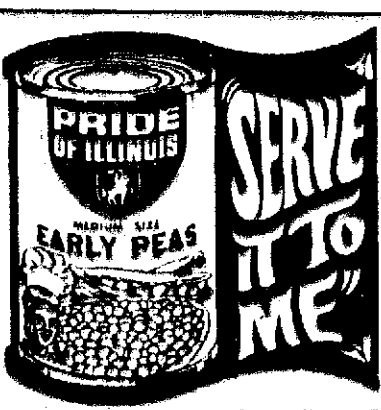

"Sophia" was pretty much of a hodgepodge and never seemed able to decide whether to take a fan magazine tack or an in-depth approach.

It was saved by the frank and forthright narration by the star who told, with touching casualness, of her illegitimate birth and of the poverty and hunger during the war years as well as the difficult days before she emerged as a contemporary sex symbol.

The combination of Bing Crosby and Bob Hope always results in some pleasant moments and the two old battlers were busily insulting each other during the Crosby special. In addition there were some interesting moments against the studio backgrounds. One came when Diana Ross and the Supremes sang a Western dirge on a Western main street set while stunt men tumbled in the dust all around them.

After that rich menu of specials, tonight will seem like diet fare. There is but one special in the lineup, but it holds considerable entertainment promise: "Girl Friends and Nabors" on CBS-8-9 EDT—with Jim Nabors out of his Gomer Pyle fatigues and in a dinner jacket, singing and playing comedy sketches with Carol Burnett, Debbie Reynolds, Mary Costa and Vikki Carr.

Most Economical
Railroads are the most economical means of transportation in both manpower and fuel consumption. All other forms of transport in the United States use almost 10 times as much fuel as railroads, yet railroads produce more than half the total gross ton-miles of transportation, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Convention Foes Using Scare Tactics

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Opponents of a proposed constitutional convention are "resorting to scare tactics," former state Sen. Jim Brandon of Little Rock said Tuesday.

"We must not be frightened by the scare tactics of our opposition," Brandon said. "They are desperate men representing vested interests and fearing the judgment of the people."

Brandon said "one of their 'bugaboos' is the cost of a convention."
